We encourage you to write articles for HBMA Billing

The Publications Committee is responsible for providing relevant and timely articles in the HBMA journal, Billing, that provide value to HBMA members. We are always interested in recruiting additional writers within HBMA and outside HBMA for articles. Please send your articles to the Editor: Madelon Berger, editor@hbma.org or to Michelle Botana, michelle@hbma.org.

Articles in Billing are the work of the authors and do not reflect the position or opinion of HBMA. No part of Billing may be reproduced without the permission of HBMA. Advertising of products or services in Billing does not constitute an endorsement by HBMA of those products or services.

Please note: HBMA's policy prohibits the publishing of any commercial content in its articles.

about

Healthcare Billing & Management Association

Elevating the profession through education, advocacy and cooperation...

As a non-profit, member-led trade association, the Healthcare Billing & Management Association (HBMA) represents 30,000 employees at more than 750 third-party medical billing firms. Founded in 1993, HBMA fosters personal development, advocates on the behalf of the medical billing profession and promotes cooperation through a wide range of business resources, educational events, networking opportunities, certification programs and enforcement of the Medical Biller's Code of Ethics.

HBMA is the only trade association representing medical billing professionals in Washington – working with the U.S. Congress, the White House, CMS and other federal agencies to improve the business of medical billing and the practice of healthcare.

HBMA Vision

HBMA shall be the leading authority on healthcare billing and management services for association members and their employees, government decision makers and other industry stakeholders.

HBMA Mission

HBMA is committed to advancing the healthcare billing and management industry through advocacy and by providing education, information and other valuable resources to its members while promoting high ethical and professional standards.

HBMA Members

HBMA companies submit more than 350 million initial claims annually on behalf of hospital-based physicians, physician practices and other providers. An increasing number also offer accounts receivable management, consulting, electronic medical record services and practice management functions.
